

Quality Policy - Nano Quarz Wafer GmbH

The constant ensuring the satisfaction of our customers and their continuous improvement are our top corporate principles. The standard of quality thus putting our customers. Therefore, their judgment about our quality is crucial.

To secure our quality standards each and every employee contributes through his personal performance.

It ensures that quality and safety-related activities planned throughout, controlled and monitored.

We meet the quality requirements of our customers and the applicable statutory and regulatory requirements.

We realize the "0-error principle".

The avoidance of errors we measure with respect to the error detection particular importance.

Through a process of continuous improvement to the quality of our products will be increased continuously over the commitment of all employees at all levels.

We are committed to continual improvement and prevention of pollution. Furthermore, we are committed to conserving resources and compliance with applicable legal requirements.

The quality policy of Nano Quarz Wafer GmbH is known throughout the company and is regularly reviewed for continuing suitability.

The quality policy is stored on the intranet in the form M0601FB01. Every employee has access to it. The quality policy is trained each year in the company.